DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-45 are pending in the application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a process for preparing a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA protein or of a shortened form thereof protein in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, said variant having immunogenicity and being expressed in E. coli as inclusion bodies, which comprises mutating a gene coding for said SpaA or ΔSpaA protein so that amino acid substitution may be introduced in the amino acid sequence of said SpaA or ΔSpaA protein, allowing the resulting mutated gene to be expressed in E. coli, and selecting such a variant that formed inclusion bodies among the variants expressed.

Group II, claim(s) 8-25, drawn to a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA or of a shortened form thereof ΔSpaA protein in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, which is immunogenic and expressed in E. coli as inclusion bodies and a composition comprising as an active ingredient a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA or of a shortened form thereof ΔSpaA protein in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, which is immunogenic and expressed in E. coli as inclusion bodies.

Group III, claim(s) 26-36, drawn to a gene coding for a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA or of a shortened form thereof ΔSpaA protein in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, said variant being immunogenic and expressed in E. coli as inclusion bodies.

Group IV, claim(s) 37-45, drawn to a use of a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA or of a shortened form thereof ΔSpaA protein in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, which is immunogenic and expressed in E. coli as inclusion bodies, for the preparation of a vaccine to Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae infection.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features because even though the inventions of these groups require the technical feature of a variant of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae surface protective antigen SpaA or of a shortened form thereof in which a portion of SpaA protein is deleted, this technical feature is not a special technical feature as it does not make a contribution over the prior art in view of Imada et al. Infection and Immunity, Sept. 1999, p. 4376-4382, cited in IDS. Imada et al teach a truncated SpaA antigen of Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae. See abstract.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
